

Use Sharpe Home as Hotel Annex

Residence to be Removed to Rear of The Governor Clinton Hotel Property by Expert Moving Firm—Building Expected to Endure For Another Century.

It is not generally understood that the property known as the General George Sharpe residence was erected in 1828, and one of the mantels had this date engraved on the face of it; proving that the thought of the original builder was that the house might possibly last at least two or three centuries. Unfortunately this particular mantel was removed from the building to adorn a new and more modern building which is being erected in Rhode Island for the daughter of Judge Severn B. Sharpe.

The present building is in such good order that it has been decided to remove it to the rear portion of the lot and use it for an annex to the Governor Clinton Hotel. The new hotel, whenever it may be required, an expert moving firm has been engaged to do this work; a concern that has been in business for more than forty years and has had great experience in moving large buildings. The house will thus be preserved to probably endure for another century, and be an example of the old time way in which buildings were erected a hundred years ago.

Stranger Gave Drugged Drink

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albion, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Drugged by a man who gave them a drink of poisonous refreshment on a Montreal-bound train, Mr. and Mrs. William McFarlane, No. 323 1/2 East Conondaga street, Syracuse, are the complainants today in one of the most cold-blooded and weird robberies ever probed by authorities of northern New York.

Found in a stupor as their train pulled into the local station late yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane were revived only after a half hour's work by physicians.

Work Begun on Glasco Gas Supply

The six inch cast iron pipe to be used for supplying gas to Glasco has arrived and is being distributed along Burt street, Saugerties. The connection in the 10 inch pipe on Mill street was made Monday afternoon by the gas company force.

V. F. Winchell, who was awarded the contract to excavate the trench and lay the pipe, will continue with the job to Glasco. The six inch pipe will be laid to Henry Fuller's corner, branching out with a 4 inch through Glasco and 3 inch to Schoenstatt bungalow colony. Contractor Winchell will use a trench excavator and expects to complete the job about November 1st.

Pythian Hall's Use

Several Organizations Sub-lease it From Franklin Lodge, K. of P., Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1924. To the Editor of The Freeman.

Sir:—In regard to an article appearing in The Freeman under date of August 13, regarding a meeting at Pythian Hall Tuesday evening, August 12:

Franklin Lodge, No. 37, K. of P., as an organization, desires to inform your readers that the officers or trustees of Franklin Lodge, had no knowledge and gave no sanction for said meeting in Pythian Hall.

JOHN S. GOODRICH, C. C.

Franklin Lodge occupies Pythian Hall only on its meeting nights and on other nights it is occupied by other organizations which sub-lease the hall from Franklin Lodge. Several such organizations sub-lease the hall, and the meeting referred to was held under the auspices of one of them.

Slayers' Trial Nearing End

Last Alienist for State Will Close Testimony in Leopold and Loeb Cases—Closing Arguments When He Finishes.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 19.—A slashing finish was supplied today for the eighteen day battle that science and scientists have waged in Judge John R. Caverly's court room as to whether Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, the 19-year-old college prodigies, were or were not "mentally diseased" when they attempted to commit the world's perfect crime by kidnapping and killing little Bobby Franks.

With Dr. William O. Krohn, the last of the great array of alienists on the stand, defense attorneys launched a particularly savage cross-examination, designed to break down the doctors' positive assertion that Loeb and Leopold are mentally sound.

It was announced by the attorneys on both sides when court opened that no more witnesses would be called and that after the defense's conclusion of Dr. Krohn's cross-examination, summing up probably will begin, with the state leading. The expectation was this might begin late this afternoon.

The cross-examination of Dr. Krohn today was again in the hands of Benjamin Bachrach.

Dr. Krohn had been camp psychiatrist at Camp Travis, Texas, during the war and he had examined from 16 to 40 patients a day for long periods, he said.

The alienist explained that many of the draftees that came into camp were of the "slacker" variety and simulated insanity.

"It took us only ten minutes in some cases to find they were faking and malingering," he said.

Bachrach's line of questioning was designed to emphasize the brevity and the superficiality of the examination by which the defense contends the state's alienists found Loeb and Leopold sane and normal.

The alienist had commented on the fact that Leopold was uniformly courteous to the doctors and to the state's attorney's thus proving "that one who could be considered of the rights of others in small matters would have the capability and power to choose concerning the rights of others in larger matters."

His opinion, he contended, was medical, not legal.

"What if you had not been in the state's attorney's office that day could you have then rendered an opinion as to their mental state?"

Dr. Krohn replied at great length, the substance of which was that he could, although he admitted that he had not been there he would not have obtained some of the data on which he based his opinion.

Bachrach asked sarcastically if in private practice Krohn would render an opinion on the mentality of a patient on such a meagre information and observation as he had opportunity to get in this case.

The alienist retorted that he thought it quite sufficient that he had seen Leopold and Loeb with their "souls stripped bare" in the state's attorney's office, and that he had seen them in court, closely observed their behavior and supplemented all this with physical facts ascertained from the Hubert-Bowman report.

"What's the longest time you ever took to examine a patient?"

"Oh, in some cases days are necessary."

"Does it take longer to find out that a man is insane than it does to find out he is sane?"

"It takes longer to find out how sane a man is than it does to find out how insane he is."

Krohn said the Franks crime itself figured considerably in his decision that the boys are not mentally diseased. Had the crime been committed in a fit of rage, or on impulse, insanity or mental disease might have more weight, but here, he pointed out, was a crime committed by careful planning, cold reasoning and an attention to detail indicated intellects of the highest order. The age of Leopold and Loeb, he said, because some men are as matured at 19 as they are at 25.

Keels Laid for 3 Rum Chasers

Workmen at the yards of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation have within the past few weeks laid the keels for three of the ten rum chasers for which the local concern has a contract with the United States government.

The chasers will be seventy-five feet in length and will be fully equipped with engines and other accessories before leaving the local yard. The contract with the government calls for the completion of one of the chasers by October 15.

French Cabinet Gives Approval

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 19.—President Doumergue today presided at a cabinet meeting when the ministers unanimously approved Premier Herriot's accomplishments at London.

It was decided that Premier Herriot should personally read a report on the London conference to the chamber and the senate Thursday, meanwhile answering any interpellations.

Immediately after the reading of the report the premier will ask for a vote of confidence before Tuesday to enable him to sign the London pact on August 26.

LaFollette Will Also Fight Klan

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 19.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette's third party campaign for the presidency, contrary to general expectation, probably will be opened in the east, his son and one of his most trusted advisers, announced here today when he arrived for a conference with eastern leaders.

Beside, said Young Bob, the candidate has decided definitely to enter the solid south and campaign vigorously in the strongholds of the Ku Klux Klan, whose foe he is.

Also contrary to general anticipation, the senator is certain to speak in New York city as well as other "strategic" centers, Robert, Jr., said.

"We will be on the ballots of every state in the solid south," young LaFollette added. "We believe there is a substantial progressive sentiment throughout the south. The south has had few opportunities to express itself. The Democratic party has been dominant and the south has had to work out its progressive principles within the party."

Ellenville Fair Opened Today

The 36th annual fair of the Ulster County Agricultural Society was opened today at Ellenville. The fair with many added attractions will continue tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

Each day there will be horse racing in the afternoon and a rough-riding exhibition by members of "C" Troop of the State Troopers. In the evening there will be various kinds of entertainment including fireworks.

An event which has proved very popular and which had drawn big crowds in past years will be the automobile races on Friday, which will follow the horse racing that day.

Several entries have been made and the race this year promises to be exciting. Purse totaling $1,000 for the three races are offered.

The baby contest will also take place on Friday.

In addition to the exhibits of farm produce, stock and poultry, there will be an excellent midway with all to the entertainment which may be expected at a county fair.

Original Reports Pension Basis

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 19.—A more liberal policy in awarding pensions to American war veterans was established today by Secretary of the Interior Work.

He ordered that reports of local examining boards on the physical disability of applicants for pensions should not be set aside by boards of reviews in Washington except for a "cogent reason."

This will serve to make the original disability reports serve as the basis for granting pensions officials said.

Globe Flyer's Plane Damaged

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Hanoi, French Indo-China, Aug. 19.—The airplane of Major Zanni, Argentine "round-the-world" aviator, was badly damaged today while the airman was taking off for Canton.

It is likely Zanni will be unable to continue the flight unless he gets a new plane. He was using a Fokker airplane.

"Kid McCoy" Acts Like Insane Man

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 19.—As District Attorney Asa Keyes went before the grand jury here today asking an indictment against "Kid" McCoy for the murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors, McCoy went on a rampage in the city jail.

The former fighter, judged sane by alienists yesterday, created a near riot at the jail, and according to jailers and police detectives, acted like a demented person.

He violently shook the bars of his cell and refused to answer questions as to what he was doing.

Later he told officers who hurried to the jail that he had been put in "a padded cell because they were afraid he would win the middle-weight championship of the world."

Bits of paper in strange forms were found on the floor of McCoy's cell and when these were taken from him the former pugilist cried and begged for their return, police said.

McCoy's strange actions were first noticed by the jailers, it was learned, shortly after midnight, when he awoke the entire jail yelling and shouting and beating on the bars.

He was quieted for a time but later started the noise again and continued it despite efforts of the jailers.

McCoy will be taken to the receiving hospital for an examination and put under restraint if he becomes more violent, police stated.

McCoy's sister, Mrs. Jennie Thomas, who has told the authorities her brother confessed to her a few hours after Mrs. Mors died that he was "afraid" he had killed a woman, was expected to be against her will, the state's chief witness in the proceedings before the grand jury.

Charges of attorneys for the dead woman's former husband, Albert A. Mors, that $12,000 worth of jewels had been stripped from Mrs. Mors's body, were connected today by the statement that McCoy "possessed" several pieces of valuable jewelry when he visited her at 2 o'clock on the morning following Mrs. Mors's death.

Mrs. Thomas's story originally was told in incoherent fashion, it was said, and it was not clearly established whether McCoy brought the jewels with him the morning he visited his sister or whether he had left them with her previously. Mrs. Thomas said the jewelry had been given her brother by Mrs. Mors.

Keyes said he would establish today just when McCoy came into possession of the jewelry.

Two new developments being investigated were reports Mors mailed a mysterious package the morning after his former wife died and that Dagmar Dalgren, McCoy's eighth wife, created a "scene" yesterday at the Nottingham apartments, where Mrs. Mors was killed.

Mrs. Dalgren, a dancer and motion picture actress, was said by police to have become hysterical and entered the apartment house. She was not placed under arrest but escorted by police from the building. Police said she would not be questioned.

A report that Mrs. Mors had left $81,000 in life insurance to Mors was to be probed at a conference of insurance men holding various policies issued to the slain woman, Mors, under the terms of a will dated August 4, 1921, executed in New York city, was left the estate, estimated at $100,000 to $200,000. The district attorney's office investigation of a story said to have been told by "Dick Somers," supposed motion picture actor, that McCoy had confessed to him of "killing a woman."

Federal agents were conducting a search for the mysterious package said to have been mailed by Mors, believing it may have contained $60,000 worth of jewels owned by Mrs. Mors and which, the agents said, may not have had duty paid on them. Mors, asked concerning the package, said he could not remember, but thought it contained "a sheet of legal documents."

Grievance Day Before Assessor

Today was "Grievance Day" at the city assessor's office at the city hall when those who felt that their assessments were too high visited City Assessor William B. Martin.

It was stated at the assessor's office that the number who appeared with a grievance was about the same as in other years.

BOTH WERE GUILTY, BUT ONLY ONE THOUGHT SO

This morning Edward Wischell and Samuel Weinstein, both arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct at Kingston Point recently, were arraigned before Judge Schirlick in police court. Wischell pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5. Weinstein pleaded not guilty, and after a trial the judge found him guilty and fined him $10.

Weinstein had also had Wischell arrested on a charge of assault in the third degree growing out of the disorderly conduct charge, but Judge Schirlick found that Wischell was not guilty of that charge and discharged him.

Court Imposes $5 Fines.
Cuy Traver and William Gehrt, both arrested for public intoxication, were fined $5 each in police court today by Judge Schirlick.

Republican Nominee for Vice President to Get Notification and Deliver Acceptance Speech at His Home—100,000 Visitors Expected.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Aug. 19.—Banners and bunting bloomed from nearly every house and tree in Evanston today as that suburb planned for the influx of 100,000 visitors.

They will be seated on the platform, on the smooth lawns and standing in the amplifiers' audience fringing his magnificent estate to night when Brig-General Charles Gates Dawes is notified that he has been selected as the Republican vice presidential candidate.

Fireworks and bands will help make a regular old fashioned jubilee of the occasion when President Coolidge's running mate, who will be the speech making wheel horse of the Republican campaign, will make his first official utterance since he was nominated at Cleveland and define accurately the issues of the presidential race as he sees them.

A. W. Jefferies of Omaha, Nebraska, who placed Dawes's name before the Cleveland convention, will officially notify the candidate of his selection. William M. Butler of Massachusetts, generalissimo of the Coolidge forces, will be chairman, and Mrs. A. W. Hart of Louisville, Ky., in charge of women's work for the national committee, will marshal the feminine forces.

In the belief that today's rain filled skies will clear before night, or that the showers will not chill the political ardor of Dawes's home folk, the committee has zoned the territory around the Dawes estate to take care of the thousands who will gather.

Before the official ceremony, General Dawes will be host at a dinner to 100 official guests, including members of congress and the national committee.

Local Minstrels Make Big Hit

The Seldom Fed Minstrels, which are being given at the Kingston Opera House, went across big at the opening performance Monday evening and produced many a laugh from the large audience. The show, directed by By-Gosh, the well known clown, is participated in entirely by local talent, youngsters of Kingston who are having as much fun out of the show as the audience.

The show is a regular old-time minstrel way.

One of the special features is a cracker eating contest, which provides fun for the actors as well as the audience, while the shammy contest creates laughter in huge bunches.

The show will be continued for four days at the Opera House.

In the cast are: Marie Lyons, Audrey Davis, Rose Pishang, Anna Fisher, Estella Tiefeft, Mary Cooper, Edith Davis, Amarella Sisters, Hazel Roseman, Iona Eling, Mary Hovers, Rose Elizabeth Gildersleeve, Anna Kember, Dorothy Vacher, Ruth Wolter, Rita Kelder, Susie Mortine, Ethel Terwilliger, Harriet DeWitt, Ethel Ellsworth, Rose Fisher, Elain Leah, Katherine Kelder, Dorothy Steel, Charlotte Rockwell, Ann Smedes, Leah Brothers, Smedes Sisters, Dorothy Moore, Mary Cunningham, Mildred Smith, James Houser, Rodney Donnelly, Jerome Leah, Milton Leah, Sidney Kraus, John Decker, Sidney Frier, Bill Forry, Max Adler, John Cave, Oliver Balano, Alfred Town send, Walter Ryan, Kenneth Olds, Joe Smythe, Leighton Wincher, Robert Rockwell, Kenneth Newell, Edwin Krawley, Charles Frier, Daniel Shevch, Ben Cohen, Leonard Scott, Floyd Barringer, Ken Koubout, Vincent Vandmark, Stanley Ivarton, Edmond O'Hara, Leo Keaton, Vincent Ulrich, Lewis Tiefeft, Sylvanus Townsend, Stanley Carson, Charles Smythe, Wesley Musick, Edward Noel, William Bitts, Harrison Wolver.

Chaplain Starts On Sombre Visit

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Mitchell Field, New York, Aug. 19.—The Rev. John J. Sullivan, American aviation corps chaplain in France during the war, hopped off here today in a De-Haviland airplane on the first lap of his flight to San Francisco. Lieutenant M. L. Elliott was his pilot.

The priest plans to visit parents of aviators whose burials he conducted in France. Nearly all of the stops will be between Chicago and San Francisco.

Father Sullivan is rector of St. Augustine's Church in Boston, Mass. He is chaplain in New York of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. His trip will cover three months.

The warning bad breath gives

102 crevices never cleaned—tooth-decay—loss of charm and health

HERE are new facts for every woman, every man, every child.

Scientific investigation has proved that ordinary methods of brushing teeth never reach the 102 tooth crevices. And this, in 76 cases out of 100, causes bad breath.

Then tooth-decay follows. Faces age. Health breaks down.

If you want to know the modern, simple way to brighten teeth—combat bad breath—halt tooth-decay, read this:

A new-type brush

A brush has been scientifically designed to reach all teeth, to clean all crevices.

With this new brush, yellowed teeth may be lightened and brightened to shades! A special polishing surface does it.

Decaying food is removed from "the polishing brush for teeth"

crevices, and thus the cause of most bad breath removed! Quickly. Easily.

And tooth-decay is halted!

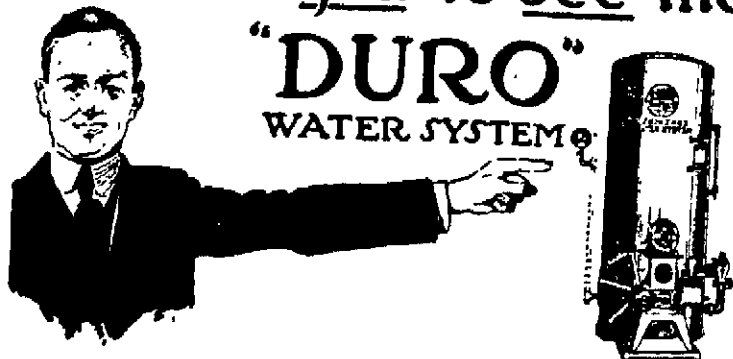

Dentists everywhere, doctors too, recommend this brush. It does what no old-type brush could do. Yet costs no more!

Labor Day at Crosspatch

Crosspatch community center will celebrate Labor Day with a dance in the evening and the house will be open all day for visitors and picnic parties.

Mrs. Cross has recently returned from a visit of several weeks in Washington, D. C., where she visited old friends and sized up the political situation.

Mrs. Roberta Thomas, sister of General Thomas, came back with Mrs. Cross and is a house guest at Crosspatch until after Labor Day.

The Labor Day dance will be the last of the season as Mrs. Cross leaves for New York the following day and will not be back until after election.

Crosspatch House will be decorated with golden rod and evergreen and prizes will be given the best dancers in waltz, fox trot and quadrille.

Quite a number of New York people will motor up for the holiday week end and stay for the dance, so Crosspatch hopes to bid its usual cheery welcome to all its friends and neighbors at the Labor Day dance. Rip Van Winkle post cards will be given to all the young ladies as souvenirs. Rip is hanging around as usual, snatching all the early blackberries and he says the post cards make him look much too old; that he is really one of those who are ever youthful of heart and it must be said he enjoys an automobile ride for he and Rex the wire-dale compete for the back seat whenever the Crosspatch car goes out.

A steady stream of visitors motor up to Crosspatch every Sunday, although there is only the lovely view and the quaint old house to attract them. Two visitors from Alabama registered last Sunday and nearly every state in the Union has been represented among its guests.

Boy Scouts Steele and Curley of New York city are guests at Crosspatch House for a fortnight. They take long hikes and have a good knowledge of Scout tactics, but they can distinguish early Astrachan apples from the late ones when they are sent to the orchard for the "makings" of deep dish pie.

Story of Stolen Kiss of Revolutionary Days

From Mount Holly, N. J., comes a story of a kiss snatched from Stephen Girard's pretty young wife by Col. Walter Stewart of the American army which is a cherished legend of that section and for which there is considerable historic foundation. It is generally known that upon the approach of the British army to Philadelphia in 1777, Stephen Girard, who was in business there and who later became one of the leading financiers of that city moved to Mount Holly and purchased a small farm. Here he and his wife lived and kept store for two years.

The story of the stolen kiss is told in Stephen Simpson's biography of Stephen Girard, published in 1882. During Girard's residence at Mount Holly, the biographer states, the American army encamped in the neighborhood, and Girard's store afforded many moments of hilarity to the soldiers. One afternoon Colonel Stewart and a fellow officer visited the store to make a small purchase and to see Girard's pretty wife. Colonel Stewart could not resist the temptation to snatch a kiss from Mrs. Girard while her husband had his back turned. The lady immediately told her husband who forced the colonel to apologize. It is said that the occurrence caused a lot of disturbance at the time.

For many years the story was believed to have originated in the author's imagination for it was known that he had a personal grudge against Girard, but the discovery that Walter Stewart was a colonel in the Continental army and that he spent six days in Mount Holly during Girard's residence there gave the story some credence.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Hare at Least Got a Brief Run for His Life

"Talkin' about running," said the seedy man, "about the finest bit o' sprintin' I ever saw was in the country year before last. I'd been out all day rabbit shootin', and had the most awful luck, when I spied a whopper great hare about two hundred yards away. Takin' a careful sight I let fly, but the instant my bullet touched him, and before it had time to penetrate his skin, that hare was off like a flash. I never saw two such evenly matched things as that hare and my bullet. For over half a mile they sped on together, neither gainin' on the other, the bullet just managin' to keep in touch with the hare's skin. At the end of a mile, however, the pace began to tell on the hare and he faltered for a moment.

"Twas fatal. The bullet sped on and the poor beast was bowled over. He deserved his freedom if ever an animal did. He'd have got it too, if he could have stuck out another 20 yards, for that's about as far as my rifle carries."—Exchange.

"Go Ahead and Shoot," Woman Tells Bandits

New York.—Defying five armed holdup men with the challenge "go ahead and shoot if you dare," Mrs. G. C. Moorehardt, wife of a member of the Columbia university faculty, prevented robbers from taking her two diamond rings in a drug store holdup near the university campus recently. Ignoring the command of the robbers to put up her hands, Mrs. Moorehardt removed both rings and hid them beneath her waistband.

PEG-LEGGED NEGRO IS ASSET TO FARM

His Wooden Stamp Makes Holes for Planting.

Mobile, Ala.—John Marshall, "peg-legged" Negro, who was recently sentenced to the county farm for violation of the prohibition law, was a wonderful asset to the farm. In fact he could serve better than a patented machine planter.

He would walk along the potato rows, and each imprint of the "peg leg" in the soft earth would be a hole to put in the seedling potato. On his return down the row his footprint would cover the planted potato and other holes would be made automatically in the next row.

Officers at the county farm saw a great reduction of expenses and time in their potato planting. But it was all a mistake. The negro should have been sentenced to jail on account of his affliction. The error was discovered and he was returned from the farm to the county prison.

Famous "Devil's Bible Put Before the Camera

Stockholm.—One of the most remarkable books in the world, called "the Devil's Bible" and also the "giant of books," has just been brought out of its hiding place in the royal library of Stockholm, following a request for a photostat copy, from the city of Prague, where it was captured at the Swedish conquest in 1648. It was written 800 years ago, and legend says that it was completed during a single night by a monk who was doomed to die. He had to have assistance from the devil, however, and in gratitude made a full page portrait of him, horns, cloven hoofs, and all, which has ever since remained in the Bible.

The book is probably the largest Bible in the world, the pages being a yard high by a foot and a half wide. It is written on 800 parchment sheets, for which, according to tradition, 100 donkey hides were required. The lettering is beautifully illuminated in gold and bright colors. The "Devil's Bible" when brought to Sweden was presented to Queen Kristina, the daughter of Gustavus Adolphus, along with a unique and priceless book, the Codex Argenteus, or "Silver Bible." The name was given to the book because it is bound in covers of heavy wrought silver. The letters of the text are in silver and gold, stamped on purple parchment. The "Silver Bible," which is about 1,400 years old, is a translation of the four gospels made by Bishop Ulfilas, and is considered invaluable because it contains virtually all the extant writing in the Gothic language. It is now preserved at Upsala university, in Sweden.

Bees Hive in Railway Car; Travel With Train

Edinburg, Texas.—For several weeks a colony of working bees have been making a daily trip between Edinburg and San Juan, on the branch line of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico railroad. It was while a baggage car was standing on the sidetrack here that this swarm of bees invaded the car and found a home between the ceiling and roof.

The colony has been there ever since, and seems to be not at all disturbed over the fact that it is taken on a daily trip to the other end of the branch line and back again. It is declared by the train crew that the bees have become so used to their home on wheels that they know when the whistle of the engine gives the signal to start. The busy, working bees immediately upon the foot of the whistle hustle into the baggage car and settle down until the train reaches San Juan, when they go out again to gather honey.

Sells Papers Telling of His Own Kidnaping

Detroit, Mich.—While detectives were searching frantically for Billy Wood, convinced that he was kidnaped and was being held for ransom, the youngster was enjoying the time of his life living in Palmer park, selling newspapers, unaware of the hubbub his absence was causing.

Billy left home the other day. When he did not return police aid was enlisted. The family even received a telephone call purporting to come from the "kidnapers."

Meanwhile, Billy was selling papers carrying the account of his absence and emblazoned with his picture. A cherry pie, baked for the occasion, was cut and served to the youngster—as a thank offering for his safe return.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 18, 1924.

FARM PROTECTION NOW.

A tariff tarradiddle persisted in by the Democrats is expressed to the effect that "the farmer under the present Republican tariff law is compelled to sell in a free and purchase in a protected market." A statement was recently distributed by the Republicans showing that agricultural implements, fertilizers, building materials, including lumber, fuel, breakfast drinks, boots and shoes, harness and saddlery, leather gloves, animals for breeding purposes, barbed wire, hoes and wheelbarrows, and a large number of other articles are now on the free list, while there were reductions on many things in general use on the farm.

Space does not permit a detailed analysis of Schedule 7, of the Republican tariff law, "Agricultural Products and Provisions," which is embracing, but from it are taken the following articles which were absolutely free of duty under the Democratic tariff law enacted in 1913, and which will be placed there again, with additions no doubt, in the anticipated event of a Democratic victory this fall. These same articles are highly protected under the present Republican law.

Fresh meats and meat animals of all sorts, and prepared poultry; milk and cream, fresh or prepared; eggs; buckwheat; corn; rye; wheat; flour and semolina; bran; plain biscuits; cherries, figs, limes, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, fruits not specially provided for, in brine; and fruits not specially provided for in their natural state; crude citron and orange peel; certain bulbs and bulbous roots; cotton seed; soy beans; sunflower seed; grass seeds of all kinds, and certain garden seeds; potatoes and potato flour; and wool. Sugar was scheduled for the free list May 1, 1916, but long before that time rolled around the Louisiana Democrats raised such a ruckus that the Democrats repealed the May first proviso, contenting themselves with retaining the reduced duties on that product.

Other articles coming under the agricultural schedule were given ridiculously low revenue rates in the Democratic tariff on the theory expressed by Mr. Underwood, framer of the measure, that the imports would be so greatly stimulated thereby that the Federal revenues would be largely increased. At the same time the Democrats took good care to see that many Southern products were looked after. The tobacco schedule, as drafted by the Republicans some years before, was untouched. Rice and its products; figs; citrus fruits such as grapefruit, oranges, limes, and lemons; pineapples and products; peanuts and certain other nuts; the early vegetables coming to Northern markets from the South, and other products were placed on the dutiable list. And Angola goat hair, 80 per cent of the production of which is in Texas, was given a duty of 15 per cent. "The Democrats promised the Italian voters that lemons would go on the free list if they would vote for Wilson. They did. The Democrats gave them a 'lemon' but not a free lemon."

The effect of the free list was disastrous. The law was in full effect but nine months of the fiscal year 1914, yet comparing that year with 1913, under the Republican tariff, imports of food animals increased 160 per cent; breadstuffs 117 per cent, wheat nearly 130 per cent and corn 1,320 per cent by volume; meat and dairy products 165 per cent, by value, the meats increasing from less than $4,000,000 to $21,000,000. Fruits and nuts, particularly peanuts, showed huge increases. So did vegetables and sugar and wool. In fact the agricultural producers were shot to pieces with foreign competition, but—

Prices did not come down. They clambered merrily upward. The American producer suffered in his home market, and the foreign competitor added the tariff taken off at this end to his profits at the other. That is the way it works.

Taking general opinion, the Davis speech of acceptance meant little or nothing to the people, while, on the other hand, that of President Coolidge was absorbed, every word of it, and received at full value. There was no mistaking the measure of sincerity with which the people digested the president's words, and it was further assurance of complete confidence. For some reason it would seem as if the great mass of people can not believe that the Democratic party is one hundred per cent sincere, while it is apparent that the people have absolute faith in what President Coolidge says and does.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD.

In nearly every health magazine you pick up, you will see articles extolling the virtues of whole wheat bread.

I frequently mention it myself because I believe in it. However, there is just this to remember always, and that is that after all it is only bread, only wheat, and wheat isn't a complete food by any means.

It is a good way to eat bread, of course, because you get the whole of wheat, and that means more nourishment, more iron, more mineral salts, and more of the waste or cellular matter, which, by gently irritating the intestines, stimulates it into action, and thus prevents to some extent that bugbear constipation.

But the trouble with some folks is that they think that by eating whole wheat bread in large quantities in large quantities, they are getting the all round nourishment required. In other words they fill up on the whole wheat bread, drink up the water, eat a little fruit, and wonder why they don't feel strong and vigorous.

Now my point is that you should eat whole wheat bread all right, but you should eat all the other foods also.

Milk is a good food for growing youngsters, and a good food as a temporary measure in some intestinal ailments, but it cannot be considered a complete food for adults. Yet you see a diet of whole wheat bread and milk advised as a complete diet for everybody.

Milk and whole wheat bread contain mineral salts, some starches to maintain heat, and some proteins to repair waste, but they do not contain enough of them.

The other food stuffs which must be added to them are the fruits and the vegetables. You were meant to eat foods that required the use of your teeth and gums; foods that require a little chewing in order to be made fit to enter the stomach.

Thus apples, celery, figs, lettuce and spinach are valuable because of the mineral salts they contain and the effort required to chew them.

If, as I've said before, you work outdoors, or engage in athletic games, then to the above should be added meat or eggs at least once a day.

If you are absolutely opposed to the use of meat, then eggs, with extra quantities of peas and beans, will provide the necessary proteins for repairing waste. However, my one point is this:

Whole wheat bread is a splendid food for the reasons given above, but you must eat fruits and vegetables if you are to give the body its full requirements.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

LOUISE BATTISTATI

Was a native of Stradella, Sardinia. Removing to Milan, she displayed remarkable courage during the "five days" revolution in 1848. On Sunday, March tenth of that year she disarmed a cavalry soldier, and taking his weapons, placed herself at the head of the Pappietti Bridge, and continued fighting against the enemy for three days, in command of a valiant band of young men. She also defended a large asylum which contained 580 persons, mostly women and children, who had taken refuge therein when Barbarossa stormed Milan.

After the insurrection she continued on active duty with the civil guard, and was an honored member of the soldiery until her death.

U. S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The first geological survey in America was conducted by Elisha Mitchell, who was born at Washington Conn., just 131 years ago today. He was a graduate of Yale and became professor of mathematics in the University of North Carolina. Afterwards he took a degree in chemistry, and in 1821 was ordained a Presbyterian minister. As state surveyor of North Carolina he made an extensive geological survey, being the first to ascertain that the mountains of North Carolina are the highest east of the Rockies. He was a martyr to science, for to settle some disputed point about the altitude of these mountains he reascended them in 1857, lost his way at night, fell down a precipice and was killed. The Geological Survey of the United States which has carried on a large scale the work commenced by Mitchell, was created for preparing a map of the United States, classifying the public lands, examining the geological structure, mineral resources, and the products of the Republic, also the investigation of the arid and semi-arid lands with a view to reclamation by irrigation etc.

"FREE SILVER."

The first influential leader of the "free silver" movement—such an important an issue in American politics—was Richard Parks Bland, who was born in Kentucky 89 years ago today and died in 1899. Bland entered Congress in 1873, the year of the demonization of the silver dollar, and he immediately became known as the champion of silver, introducing a measure providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver by all the mints of the United States, and it was passed by the House in 1877.

The Senate refused to pass the Bland Bill in its original form, but the bimetallicists succeeded in their efforts to the extent of directing the Secretary of Treasury to purchase monthly not less than $2,000,000 and not more than $4,000,000 worth of silver bullion, to be coined into standard silver dollars, which should be unlimited legal tender for all debts. President Hayes vetoed the bill, but it was passed over his veto, and it remained in force until 1900, when it was repealed by the Sherman Act, "Silver Dick" Bland remained in the House until his death in 1899.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

FRED'S FRIENDS

Fred had made friends with Mr. and Mrs. Robin. Mr. Robin was very fond of a good dinner and so was Mrs. Robin and the little robins had appetites as well.

"I shall get a delicious worm," said Mr. Robin as he stuck his head down into the soft lawn, for it had rained very recently.

"And I shall get one, too," said Robin.

"We shall try and see what we can do," said the little robin, for now they were big enough to do some work themselves.

Their mother let them do a good deal of marketing but she always let them eat what they got.

"I'm so practical," said Mr. Robin, "that I think of worms as well as of singing."

"And I'm so practical," said Mrs. Robin, "that I think of worms as well as of listening to your beautiful singing."

"We're so practical," said the little robins, who didn't know what practical meant, being sensible about attending to plain, necessary things, but thought practical meant simply the joy of eating, "that we, too, gather worms."

Fred had another friend, a beautiful goldfinch, and the goldfinch sang for Fred.

You see, Fred was out camping for the summer and so he had a chance to make many out-of-door friends.

A chipmunk was also a friend of Fred's and Fred fed him nuts.

A katydid was another friend and became really quite tame.

A frog was another friend of Fred's and the frog took up his abode near the tent where Fred slept, as there was a little pond nearby and the frog found the pond was a splendid pond in which to live and eat and see what was going on about him.

There were a good many fruit trees around but it seemed to Fred as though many of his bird friends enjoyed the huxes and worms and insects and only took a little fruit now and again as though by way of dessert or candy.

A wren was a great friend of Fred's and this wren was very fond of grasshopper salad.

"I don't bother about any fancy salad dressing," the wren seemed to tell Fred.

"I enjoy my grasshopper salad plain."

But every night the frog seemed to be talking to Fred and this was what Fred thought he said:

"Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, nice pond this. How can you live in a tent when there is a pond nearby?"

"Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, goog-a-room, that is beyond my frog understanding."

"Here in the pond there are so many good things to eat. It is cool here and pleasant and I enjoy myself a great deal."

"I should not care about sleeping in a tent. Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, I do not need blankets with which to cover myself up."

"I would not care about sleeping in a cot. No, that is something I would not care about."

"Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, what silly creatures people are."

"They come to the country and they sleep in cots. Why don't they come to the country and camp out in a pond?"

"That is something I can't understand."

Fred thought to himself that the frog was a very interesting frog and he liked his out-of-door friends.

He enjoyed them all and they became quite tame as Fred watched them without frightening them and gave them good things to eat.

But Fred knew he would not like to live in a pond or in a tree. No, the cot felt very comfortable every night, and the blankets good and warm!

She Missed Her Mother
Jean had spent a fortnight in the country and was accounting the many, many pleasures she had experienced during her visit.

Suddenly she gazed up into her mother's face and earnestly assured her, "But I missed you, mother, more than I was happy."

GAS BUGGIES—It's Enough To Irritate Any Woman

The KITCHEN CABINET

(By 1924, Western Newspaper Union)
It is merely an exaggeration to say that many matters which agitate the public mind are worth a thought in comparison with dietary questions to which a thought is seldom given.

SUMMERY DISHES

Now that the fresh fruit and berries are plentiful one may enjoy a variety of fruit combinations.

Pineapple Turnovers—Roll pastry thin and cut into four-inch squares. Drop the scrap from one cupful of ground pineapple. On the center of each square place a tablespoonful of the drained pineapple and one teaspoonful each of sugar and butter. Moisten the edges of the pastry and fold together in the form of triangles, pressing the edges firmly together. Fry until brown in deep fat. Drain on brown paper, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve immediately.

Strawberry Pudding—Soften two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water; add one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add one-half cupful of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of strawberries, crushed, and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Let stand in a cold place until the mixture looks creamy, then add two stiffly beaten egg whites and pour the jelly into molds. Serve on squares of sponge cake with cream and sugar and garnish with whole berries.

Pineapple Sandwiches—Cut oblong slices of sponge cake about one-half inch thick. Put together in pairs with a layer of crushed pineapple between. Place on individual serving dishes, sprinkle with powdered sugar and decorate with quarters of blanched almonds, stuck into the cake. Serve with a cold custard sauce.

Frozen Fruit Salad—Cut six slices of pineapple into small pieces; mix with two cupfuls of strawberries. Stir in one cupful of mayonnaise with one cupful of whipped cream. Fill baking powder boxes with the mixture; cover with greased paper and put on the covers. Bind the edges to keep out the salt, with a strip of cloth dipped in molten wax. Pack in a pail with two parts of ice to one of salt. Let stand three hours. Serve cut into slices with cream mayonnaise dressing.

Each in His Place
Tolstoy in his farm, Milton without his sight, Bunyan in his prison, this tour in his laboratory, all did great things for the world. All these had their burdens and their limitations—and who has not? Yet they wrought for the good of mankind.

"I don't say," "Because I am on a cot, or blind, or in prison, or confined to a workshop, I cannot do anything worth while." Rather did they say: "This is my lot, but I shall not despair. I will make the most of my opportunities, and do my best while I have life." This is the spirit of all those who do great things.

Hasbrouck Seeks Championship

According to an announcement made by the officials of the Dutchess County Fair, the question as to who is the judicial "barnyard golf" champion of the Hudson valley will be settled in Rhinebeck one of the days that the fair is held there when Supreme Court Justice A. H. F. Seeger of Newburgh and Supreme Court Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck will "cross horseshoes" on the Fair grounds in that place.

Justice Seeger is recognized as the probable champion of the bar of the Ninth Judicial District while Justice Hasbrouck holds just as enviable a position among the bar of the Third District. No definite date has been set as yet for the match between the two justices, but it is expected that it will be set for the closing day. The fair will start on Tuesday, August 26, and last through Saturday, August 30.

The match will be an added attraction to the regular state championship matches, and many of the leading barnyard golfers of the state have signified their intention of entering. So many entries are expected that there will probably be elimination contests.

WINNERS BEAT FAIR STREET NINE 8 TO 3.

Monday night the Winners team of the Clinton Avenue Sunday school defeated the men's class of the Fair Street Church by a 8-3 score. The game was played at Canfield Park and was one of the best played there this year. Van Aken was on the mound for the Winners. He allowed only three hits, all coming in the first inning. In the first inning the Fair street men made three runs, the result of a home run by Newkirk with two on. The Clinton Avenue team took the lead in the third when they scored four runs, and were never headed. Timely hitting and good base running were the factors in the Clinton Avenue team's victory. The score:

Through the Needle's Eye

It is a fact that there is in the wall of Jerusalem a small gateway built for the use of pedestrians and known by a name which is translated as "The Needle's Eye." Through this gate it is quite possible for a small undernourished camel, divested of all its equipment, harness, etc., by kneeling, to work its way, though not without difficulty. The gate is still in existence.

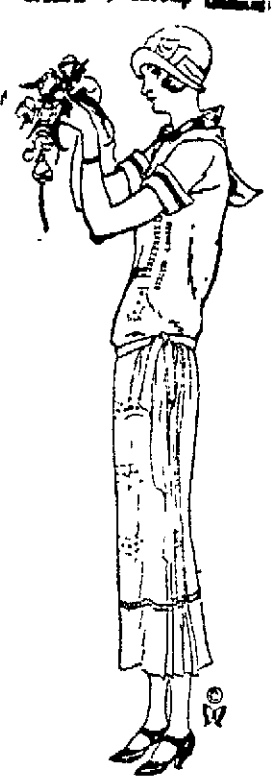

Just What Is Beauty?

Beauty cannot be described, since what seems beautiful to one may be plain to another. Ben Jonson's "most beautiful face" had to possess simplicity, crowned by flowing hair and a sweet neglect; Spenser would have eyes like sapphires, teeth like pearls, and a forehead like ivory; Rogers insisted on archness and mirth. Every lover thinks his girl is beautiful.

War and Disputes

What Tully says of war may be applied to disputing—it should be always so managed as to remember that the only true end of it is peace; but generally true disputants are like true sportsmen, their whole delight is in the pursuit; and a disputant no more cares for the truth than the sportsman for the hare.—Pope.

England's Tobacco

England always takes the best of the Havana tobacco and allows the rest of the world to get along with the leftovers. An English importer of Havana who has been in the trade for 30 years says there are 100,000 cigar smokers in England, and that those islands consume 28,000,000 Havana cigars in a year—say $10,000,000 worth. This importer put the number of other sorts of cigars smoked in Britain at 400,000,000.

particular line of crime the potential criminals were headed for—arson, swimming, burglary or murder.

While neither the gland theory nor the lower brain theory has as yet been applied in the schools, both are gaining headway in the criminal courts.

Examination by doctors of medicine—especially doctors of mental therapy—are now almost as common in important criminal cases as cross-examination by doctors of law. A recent murder case in Chicago, for instance, is said to be employing about five times as many doctors as lawyers.

With the growing acceptance of the physical basis of crime, it is becoming more difficult to secure a conviction of murder in the first degree. Always in criminal cases the law presumes that all persons are sane. Hence, when the defendant or his counsel admits the actual commission of the act but denies responsibility on the ground of insanity, the burden of the proof rests on them. In a short time, however, it may be the other way about. One expert predicts that the law will come to regard every criminal insane from a weak brain or gland defects, and he will have the devil of a time proving sanity and thus retaining his liberty on bail, as he does at present.

The Question of Intent.

From time immemorial the most important question in criminal cases has been that of criminal intent. In other words, did the accused intend to commit the crime, or did he do it involuntarily? If, knowing right from wrong, deliberately planned and executed a crime, then there is no doubt that he is guilty. But if his counsel can prove that he is mentally unable to form a criminal intent—because of incapacity to distinguish between right and wrong—he is not regarded as guilty under the law.

In attempting to prove the irresponsibility of individual criminals, some the navy's naval squadron defeated the German man squadron off the Falkland Islands. In the late war, it was a woman who first divulged all gave the information to the German fleet in the presence of the German fleet in the Atlantic, according to Admiral Sir John Jellicoe.

The German man told the woman he had information approaching the islands of the South. She sent her maid to the beach to investigate, and she confirmed the statement. The information was at once telephoned to the Admiralty, and he transmitted it to the fleet.

Mr. nor Mrs. Davis was at the time a servant admitted the record the first thing he saw in the hall was a rack filled with walking sticks of every shape and description. The servant said he believed most of them were Davis.

Hard as Rock

How to identify rocks by their color, feel, taste, hardness and weight, are some of the questions of identification? That's the question to think about while the stone is something more than a mumble over or to throw. A stone divided into six, or eight pieces, makes a splendid case in the museum. To put away various specimens of the way and labeled according as you learn their right names, is a splendid case in the museum. The number of public works shall appoint more than three assistant superintendents. Those duties shall be prescribed by modification by the legislature, and for all other services are to be fixed by law. They shall office for three years, subject to removal by the superintendent, or, however, in his judgment, interest shall so require. Any vacancy in such assistant superintendent shall be filled for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in the absence of any superintendent by him, he shall appoint a temporary superintendent to take over all other persons engaged in matters connected with the collection of tolls, and those members of the state engineer and surveyor will be the superintendent of public works, and be subject to constitution be amended to read as follows:

"§ 11. The legislature shall provide for a state board of charities, which shall visit and inspect all institutions, whether state county municipal, incorporated or not incorporated, which are of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformative character, except state institutions for the education and support of the blind and the deaf and dumb, and exceptional cases of insane asylums, hospitals, and magic subject to the written and inspection of either of the [commissioners], authorities hereinbefore mentioned, but including all reformatories, except those in which adults, males convicted of felony shall be confined, for juveniles. [A state commission in lunacy.] The head of each department of mental hygiene (which) shall visit and inspect all institutions, either public or private, used for the care and treatment of the insane, epileptic, idiots, feeble-minded or mentally defective [not including institutions for epileptics or idiots]. There shall be a state commission of correction, of which the head of the department of correction shall be the chairman, [prisons] which shall visit and inspect all institutions used for the detention of sane adults charged with or convicted of crime, or detained as witnesses or debtors."

§ 13. Resolved (if the Assembly concur). That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and, in confirmation of the constitution one of articles fourteen to sixteen, be put to the vote of the people at three months previous to the time of such election.

The Question of Intent.

From time immemorial the most important question in criminal cases has been that of criminal intent. In other words, did the accused intend to commit the crime, or did he do it involuntarily? If, knowing right from wrong, deliberately planned and executed the crime, then there is no doubt that it is guilty. But if his counsel can prove that he is mentally unable to form a criminal intent—because of insanity to distinguish between right and wrong—he is not regarded as guilty under the law.

In attempting to prove the irresponsibility of individual criminals, some

FIFTH AVENUE IS TOO EXCITING FOR MAN FROM THE WEST

Too Many Stick-Ups and "Doggone Many People," Says Guide.

New York—Joe Jones, one of the best known guides in Wyoming, is counting the minutes until he can get back to the open spaces where men "don't ride like cattle in a cattle car." Joe sat in an office overlooking Fifth avenue and expressed himself in crash words like a pneumatic riveter in reverse.

"I've seen a man get off a horse on the lawn side and break out in cold sweat," he said. "I've seen 'em run a horse in a prairie dog town, and I've seen 'em pull going up a steep place and wonder when they were going to pitch backward. But I wouldn't live in New York if you'd give me the whole city with a fence around it. I can't sleep; I can't eat. I keep my hand on my pocketbook in the subway. Good Jupiter! mister, you're liable to get stuck up any minute, and it's as much as a man's life is worth to cross Fifth avenue. Why, I've seen a driverless silver, standing quietly at the curb, suddenly take after an innocent pedestrian and chase him all over the place.

Gosh! How He Dreads Trips.

So Joe is going back to Wyoming and he's counting the minutes. He came to New York on business and was appointed one of the official guides of the Buffalo Bill American association at 460 Fifth avenue, to conduct parties to Yellowstone park and to the site of the association's bronze equestrian statue of Buffalo Bill on the heights above the Shoshone river.

New York is not new to Joe. He has been coming here at least once a year for twelve years. And, gosh, how he dreads it! Joe has a dude ranch out in Wyoming, fifty miles from Cody and twelve miles from the old T-E estates owned by Buffalo Bill. Wealthy New Yorkers visit the ranch each summer, up at the end of the wagon trail, to hunt bear, moose, elk, deer and big horn sheep in the hills of the Continental Divide. They get hardened, too.

Joe, who has spent most of his life in the saddle, says a saddle is far different from perching on the upholstery of a fine automobile, especially at the beginning. He says, too, that at the end of a forty-five-mile trip, somebody is likely to get careless and fall off a cliff, damaging the heads of the big game they're bringing back, to say nothing of themselves.

Too Doggone Many People.

Joe is keen-minded, but nature neglected him in stature. In fact, back in 1893, when he went to the Philippines with the First Idaho Infantry, he was the smallest man in the army—five feet two inches, and weighing 118 pounds. His legs never will be straight.

But Joe was mournful now. He probably would have cried right into his strawberry ice cream soda if he had had one, but he was so nervous he didn't dare go out on the street. Joe is different at the summit of a mountain crag back home. He shook his head.

"Let's get out where there ain't so doggone many people," he sighed. "Gimme my pack mules and saddle horses. Gimme the attitude of the mountains and the camp fire, where man tells you his life history. Lord but I want to get back! I'd grease my man's boots to be there."

Man Buried as Pauper Was Worth $100,000

Hutchinson, Kan.—Supposedly a pauper, J. Eggstein, who died at the poor farm and who is buried in the Potter's field, was worth more than $100,000, according to information reaching the county authorities here. A man who did not leave his name got affidavits of Eggstein's death from the superintendent of the poor farm, saying that the man had $21,000 in a Kansas City bank and $100,000 worth of bonds.

Eggstein was picked up on the street, supposedly a stranded harvest hand, last summer. He refused to give any information concerning himself, saying it was nobody's business.

When Newly Painted

To prevent windows sticking the thing to remember is that for two or three days after the frames are painted each window should be opened and run up and down two or three times a day. Unless this is done the windows are almost certain to stick.

LIP STICK AND VANTY CASE IN GREEK TOMBS

False Hair and Other Artificial Means of Feminine Adornment Discovered.

Odesa, Russia.—One hundred and sixty ancient Greek tombs of striking design and rare archaeological interest have been unearthed in the dead City of Olyvia, near here, by Prof. Semenov-Zusser, distinguished Russian archaeologist.

Among the articles found in the tombs was a small linen bag containing a lady's mirror and believed to be the forerunner of the present-day vanity case. In the bag, there also was a rouge stick for the lips and a charcoal pencil for the eyes. The bag was found in the grave of a female together with tufts of false hair and a number of silver bracelets, earrings, beads and other jewels.

In other tombs were discovered pottery of exquisite workmanship, multi-colored vases, amulets, knives and various articles of bronze and copper all in a perfect preservation.

The excavations, which have been in progress for many months, thus far have yielded more than 1,000 articles of surpassing antiquarian interest.

Olyvia, which means "merry," was once a centre of Greek learning, culture and trade and it flourished about 500 B. C. Later it became known among Russians as the "Pompeii of the Black Sea."

Greek emigrants of Asia Minor selected Olyvia, Herodotus records, because "it is free from malaria and its air is pure and transparent as crystal." From a thriving, prosperous port for the rich goods of the East, it became in the course of centuries a pauper colony, existing solely on the revenue from occasional traders. Today the city is a mass of ruins.

Operation for Heart Disease Is Success

Vienna.—The complete recovery of a patient operated upon here for angina pectoris by the American surgeons, Dr. Walter B. Coffey and Dr. Brown of the Southern Pacific hospital, San Francisco, has aroused the keenest interest of a conference of three groups of physicians from various parts of the world who have been directing their efforts to the relief of angina pectoris by surgery.

The conference was called by Prof. Wenckebach, a well known heart specialist of Vienna university, who delivered a course of lectures on that subject in the United States last year, and included, in addition to Drs. Wenckebach, Coffey and Brown, Prof. Eppinger, Hofer and Winterberg of Vienna and Prof. Nasta of Bucharest.

Prof. Wenckebach's visit to America did much to promote international co-operation in medicine and surgery.

Three Survivors of Last Man's Club Dine

St. Paul, Minn.—With only three of the four surviving members able to attend, the annual banquet of the famous Last Man's club was held here.

John S. Goff, eighty-one, came from St. Paul for the reunion; Charles Lockwood, seventy-nine, made the trip from Chamberlain, S. D., and Peter Hall, eighty-three, journeyed from Atwater, Minn. The other member, Emil Graft, eighty-three, was unable to leave his home at St. Cloud, Fla.

The Last Man's club was formed here in 1886 by 34 surviving members of B company, Minnesota volunteers, who fought in the Civil war. A bottle of wine was purchased at the first meeting and it was agreed that the last member should drink a toast to his departed comrades.

At this year's meeting 30 chairs, draped in black, were grouped about the banquet table in memory of members who had died.

MILTON.

Milton, Aug. 18.—The program for the opening of the Sarah Hull Hallock Free Library building in village has been completed. Beginning at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, August 27, on the corner Main and Landing streets, the formal opening will take place. In case of a storm, it will be postponed until the next evening. Addresses will be made by the Rev. H. F. Wilke of Germantown, Pa., the Rev. T. Tighe of St. James's Church, the Rev. J. W. Leadbeater and Major Lucius Tuckerman. After the formal opening a block dance will be held. Music will be furnished by the Brook Villa Orchestra. There will also be vocal solos by the Milton Melody Club. Mrs. Irving Clarke has been engaged to act as librarian as soon as the new building is free to the public. The library will be open three afternoons and two evenings of each week. The books and equipment have been removed from the rooms in the Woolsey building and the book cases have to be re-arranged and put in order by Percy V. Bunker. The new building is the handsomest building in the village and a worthy memorial to those who have worked faithfully and a memorial to Sarah Hull Hallock, who gave the library to the people over thirty years ago. The fund for this building including money received has reached $3,000 and nearly $4,000 have been paid on the new building. There is about $1,000 still to be collected in unpaid pledges and the committee in charge of the funds and library request that all money promised be paid in as soon as possible. Mrs. Percy Bunker, treasurer for the fund, will receive the payments. At the recent meeting of the school board of Consolidated districts 1, and 4, the following officers were elected: President, C. R. Taber; treasurer, Francis Kaley; secretary and collector, Michael Conroy; trustee officer, Peter Donovan; medical examiner, Dr. A. S. Ferguson. The directors are J. W. Clarke, C. R. Taber, J. Harold Clarke, J. J. Kaley and Herbert Sears.

The Willow Tree Tea House has been doing a thriving business during the past week. Among the guests were parties from Hot Springs, Arkansas, Annapolis, Maryland, San Diego, California, Detroit, Michigan, Wichita, Kansas and many towns and cities in New England, New Jersey and New York state.

The Daily Freeman's Milton press correspondent will be pleased to receive for publication notices of church, Men's Club, Maids and Matrons' Club, W. C. T. U. and other meetings. William R. Ordway, correspondent.

Isaac V. Purdy of Detroit and a former resident of Milton, has been visiting relatives the past week in this village.

The Rev. H. A. Northacker of Elmhurst, L. I., will have charge of the services in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday, August 24 and 31. The Rev. Northacker was a former pastor of this church.

Famous Men Visit Coolidge

Edison, Ford and Firestone on Annual Vacation Trip Cross the Trail of a President for Third Time.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 20.—Vacation paths were to cross today in this little New England hamlet and bring together for a few hours four of the nation's most prominent men.

President Coolidge, seeking rest here in the home of his father, arranged to entertain three others—Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard; Henry Ford, motor manufacturer; and Harvey Firestone, rubber manufacturer.

Edison, Ford and Firestone are embarking upon their annual camping trip, which in late years has attracted much attention. Their route has brought them to Plymouth. After a stop of a few hours they intended to continue to the Canadian woods.

No ceremonies were planned. A brief meeting and possibly luncheon was expected.

This is the third year the trail of the three campers has crossed that of a president.

Twice they met up with President Harding.

Last night the industrialists spent in Ludlow, 12 miles from Plymouth. They had motored there from the Way Side Inn in Massachusetts, hallowed by Longfellow's poem. Ford bought it recently to preserve it.

Ford's Comprehensive Comment.

None of the three had much to say for publication. They emphasized they were on a vacation and meant to stay on a vacation, and, however, heard with interest of the President's vacation activities.

"Mighty smart man," that Coolidge, he commented.

While waiting for their guests the President and Mrs. Coolidge busied themselves about the house. Their greatest task was assisting the executive's father, Colonel John Coolidge, to straighten up his correspondence which he had allowed to accumulate recently. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge helped him to file it.

Vermont is "keeping cool with Coolidge." Chill weather that demands coats and heavy clothing made indoors more attractive than it usually is on a vacation.

The presidential party remained close to the old fashioned parlor with its stove and stuffed furniture. Secret service agents, whose task it is to protect the president and first lady, shivered outside. The little knots of curious tourists that gathered from time to time thinned out considerably after waiting in the chill out of doors.

Follows Son's Last Request. A touch of sentiment was injected into the day's activities. It was when Mrs. Coolidge appeared outside for a few moments and, on the end of a fence, mounted a child's cardboard wind mill.

It was explained that the toy was made by Calvin Coolidge, Jr., now lying buried just across the road. He made it during his vacation here last year. Shortly before he died he asked his mother to put it back in place, should she return to Plymouth before he did.

TIPLESS TUBE IS LATEST IN RADIO.

A new wrinkle has lately been added to the construction of vacuum tubes that are used in radio work. The familiar tip on the end of the tube is absent. This fact may seem trivial to you but it has a considerable value to all radio fans.

In the earlier type of tube a tip of glass was left on the end of the globe. This was due to the fact that in pumping the air from the globe a glass tube was fastened to an opening on the surface of the globe. This glass tube was connected by means of a rubber hose to the pump.

When the air from the tube was exhausted the glass tube was melted off in a gas flame thereby sealing the tube. Part of the glass tube always remained and formed a sharp pointed tip that protruded from the most prominent part of the surface of the globe.

This tip is very easily broken off by a blow that would prove harmless to any other part of the instrument. A very light touch with a screwdriver or other tool when working in the set is often sufficient to break off the tip and allow air to enter and destroy the tube. The filament of the tube will last but a fraction of a second in air before burning up.

Portable sets and places where space is valuable the tubes cannot be used in certain positions an account of the tip requiring an extra half inch of clearance room for safety.

In the newer type of tubes, the globe is evacuated from the bottom. The tip is then located beneath the metal socket of the tube and is out of sight and out of the way. The tipless vacuum tube is certainly an improvement that is a step forward to the perfection of this wonderful and vital part of our receiving sets.

A new tube, called the Echotron, has been introduced that embodies the tipless feature as well as other improvements. The tube is of the 201-A type with a standard base and consumes but a quarter of an ampere of current at five volts, and is used on a regular six volt storage battery.

Secret of Happiness

To live content with small means—to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion, to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich—to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly, to listen to stars and birds, babes and sages, with open heart—to bear all cheerfully—do all bravely, await occasions—never hurry; in a word, to let the spiritual, hidden and unconscious, grow up through the common.—W. E. Channing.

Coolidge Gives Ford Souvenir

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 19.—The entire countryside—man, woman and child, turned out today to call on President Coolidge and rub elbows with him and his family on his vacation spot, the old Coolidge farm here.

"Cal" was an old friend to them. His high office did not mean much to the friendly folk.

One of the things that brought the great crowd was the visit of Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Harvey Firestone, three major figures in the industrial world. On their way to the Canadian woods for their vacation, the three stopped off to call upon the president.

The visit took on the aspect of a town holiday. The president added a little formality to the occasion by presenting Ford with a family relic to be placed in the Wayside Inn, Massachusetts tavern made famous by Longfellow's Sagas and bought recently by Ford for historical preservation. It was a sap bucket that had been used in the Coolidge maple sugar bush for 125 years.

Mr. Coolidge said it originally belonged to John Coolidge, his great-grandfather, Plymouth's first settler.

"I never have received anything since I was married that I appreciated so much," Ford said delightedly.

Alice DuBois, widow of Oscar Bloomer, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lindsey Hutchins in Newburgh, Friday night, aged 62 years. She is survived by one son and one daughter, Dimock Bloomer of Marlborough and Mrs. Hutchins of Newburgh, and four brothers all of Marlborough. She was a native and former resident of Marlborough and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Frank J. Butzel, a former resident of Saugerties, died in New York city Sunday. He was in the 75th year of his age. For a number of years he was engaged in business at Saugerties. He was a member of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce and always maintained a deep interest in Saugerties. Two daughters, Mrs. Florence Ansbacher and Mrs. Bessie Frey both of New York city, are one sister, Mrs. Tillie Putzel of Baltimore, Md., survive.

Ernest L. Haight, editor of the Highland Post, died at his home in Highland Saturday. Death was due to a sudden heart attack. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Dorothy, and one son, Raymond. Mr. Haight was an elder in the Highland Presbyterian Church, a past master of Masons in Ravena, and a member of Odd Fellows and the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. He was born in Westchester county about 49 years ago. Early in life he was attracted to the printing trade and most of his life was spent in Highland, where he was editor of the Highland Post. Previous to 1900 he had edited the Post, but in 1900 he moved to Ravena, in Albany county. In 1914 he came back to Highland, once more to guide the destinies of the Post, and until 1920 commuted to his home at Ravena. In 1921, his family moved to Highland, where he assumed more duties in the form of manager for the Gardner-Moffat Company, publishers of trade magazines.

President Keeps Early Hours

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 19.—No one else may ever have caught President Coolidge napping, but Mrs. Coolidge catches him at it every afternoon.

She confided her fears that the president slept too much to Thomas A. Edison, when the inventor called today at the Coolidge vacation farm.

"He takes a nap every afternoon," she said "and goes to bed very early at night."

"Lack of sleep never hurt anyone," answered the wizard, noted for his few hours of sleep.

Easy to Tell Fortune

Shown by Tea Leaves

The custom of telling fortunes from tea leaves left in the cups is by no means on the wane. It is a simple matter to memorize most of the signs, and a good imagination is also of great assistance.

Leaves in the form of a train are said to mean either a journey or the arrival or departure of some one in whom you are interested. A snake indicates enemies. Doves are supposed to be lucky, and so are stars, the crescent moon, and horseshoes, says London Tit-Bits.

News from abroad is often fore-shadowed by a tent. Shoes mean a journey. If the cup is clear all round it is said to be a good sign. Gloves indicate a meeting with strangers while stockings usually foreshadow presents.

Chairs mean visitors; keys new undertakings. Initials are usually deemed to be lucky. Black clusters of trees mean gatherings, but may also be taken to mean a cluster of worries.

Origin of Perfume

To the Greeks, who attributed the origin of perfume to a drop of nectar spilt at a feast of the gods of Cupid, we owe the addition of flower fragrance to the list of perfume materials, observes the Detroit News. Their refined sense of smell demanded more delicate scents than the strong fragrance of spices and heavy animal odors, as music, one of the oldest and best known perfumes at that time and still popular in the Orient. Iris, rose, crocus, violet and also the aromatic plants, thyme and marjoram were favorite scents with them.

Then came the Dark Ages—even for perfumers and perfumes, as the natural and inevitable result of Roman extravagance. The art of perfuming was lost, not to have rebirth until Renaissance days and the time of the famed Florentine perfumer, Reni, who, history tells us, accompanied the fourteen-year-old Catherine de Medici to France as court perfumer.

But One Got Him

"At sixteen the girl is a woman; at twenty-five, if still unmarried, she is a girl," sternly said the philosophical youth, who had devoted much time to thinking. "She will face death without a tremor and swoon at the sight of a mouse. The only time she does what you expect her to do is when you expect her to do what you do not expect her to do. The only reason she does anything is because she doesn't know why she does it. She jumps at conclusions, and always lands on them, because when the conclusion skips to one side in an endeavor to avoid her it gets squarely in her way. The only man who understands a woman is he who understands that he doesn't understand her, and lets it go at that."

News Note: Two weeks later he married one of them—Country Gentleman.

Annuit Idea Old

Historically, annuities antedate life insurance by far, says the World's Work. It is thought that the great development of banking facilities in Assyria and Babylonia must have provided annuities.

The first definite mention of them, however, was 40 B. C. in Rome, and is of such a character as to justify a belief that they had been long in use.

In the Middle Ages kingdoms, municipalities and bankers obtained money by selling annuities for life or terms of years. It is said that England's national existence during the reigns of William of Orange was largely maintained through the money obtained by selling annuities. At first the values of such contracts were determined without scientific calculation.

ROAD BUILDING

DAY OF NARROW ROAD CONSTRUCTION GONE

Don't build the road narrow. But however it is built, have a right of way ample enough to provide for widening in the future. On these two hang all the law and the profits of modern road building!

An expensive fault of the narrow road is the concentration of traffic. Wheels moving constantly over the same places produce parallel lines of excessive wear. To prevent rapid disintegration of a single track road a heavier foundation and surface is needed than is required for a wider road.

Substantial shoulders at the sides on which the passing traffic may turn out are also necessary, as otherwise the wheels of vehicles turning out to pass will quickly wear ruts at the edges. In these water collects, to penetrate beneath the foundation, with disastrous results. A narrow road with soft earth shoulders is dangerous to motor traffic in slippery weather.

To build the heavier foundation and surface needed to bear the concentration of traffic on a narrow road, and the substantial shoulders at the sides require as much money as to build a wider road. On a wide road, traffic is scattered, and wear is distributed. With a paved surface sufficiently wide for two lines of rapidly moving vehicles to pass in safety, the necessity for artificial shoulders is eliminated. To build a narrow road, thin and without shoulders, means a loss of the entire investment in a comparatively short time.

A narrow right of way requires drainage ditches close to the travel. With no shoulder between paved surface and ditch the chances of serious accident are largely increased. All drainage ditches tend to become deeper, so that the danger to traffic becomes constantly greater.

Before any program for beautification of highway is undertaken, some assurance that the rights of way are wide enough to accommodate future traffic should be had.

Motor vehicle traffic will increase as the mileage of hard roads increases. A general extension in the width of wearing surfaces will call for wider rights of way. To obtain wider rights of way now means an ultimate saving of a large sum of money and will prevent many future difficulties.

Great Influence of Better Roads

The following points show how improved roads influence farm home life:

1. Shortens the distance from neighbor to neighbor and so reduces isolation and loneliness.
2. Brings the town and the country home closer together, making it possible for the farmer and his family to enjoy the amusements and educational advantages offered in town.
3. Saves time in traveling from the farm to town and from town to farm. This allows more time for work, rest or pleasure.
4. Lightens the burden of marketing crops.
5. Social intercourse between town and country tends to break down barriers of misunderstanding, jealousy, suspicion and ill-feeling.
6. Improved roads make possible bigger and better consolidated schools and churches in town or in the country.
7. Improved roads offer greater incentive to hauling limestone and fertilizer in building up the farm and increasing its productivity and income.

Learning to Build Roads

The advisory board of highway research, which recently met in Washington, is composed of from sixty to seventy of the leading engineers and scientists of the country. More than $100,000 is being spent on learning how to build highways so as to give the best and longest service per dollar, and this group of men have assembled to discuss and exchange data on the experiments in progress on roads.

Roads Help Keep Pace

Good roads have helped the farmer keep pace with modern times. Who would go back to those days when the farm was isolated, especially in wet weather, the deep rutted dirt roads, the horse and buggy, or perhaps the sleigh, with its limited area of travel when a trip to town was considered a journey.

Remove Decayed Trees

Removal of all decayed trees bordering main line roads in Connecticut has been undertaken by the state highway department in the hope of removing the danger of highway blockades during heavy windstorms.

No actual cases of accidents involving falling trees across the roadways have come to the attention of the department, but it is felt that if this precaution is taken the probability of mishaps of this kind will be removed.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 19.—The reactionary movements which broke out intermittently in the stock market today were not able to gain much headway. Profit taking in the market speculative leaders appeared to be absorbed and bullish factors dominated the market for industrial and railroad stocks, though the volume of trading in the latter was comparatively small. Motor and oil stocks supplied the activity which has been largely monopolized by the rails in recent sessions, the oils showing a tendency to rally in good form on a small volume of sales.

Steel stocks were strong today on reports from producing centers telling of continued expansion of operations of large steel mills. U. S. Smelting was again the leader of the low priced copper, with an advance to a new high at 36.

Industrial specialties composed a strong feature of the market. Union Tank Car climbed about six points higher to 126; Allis Chalmers, 67; four point gain and sold at 24; high at 54; Sloss-Sheffield at 75 was up nearly 3 points and in new high ground for 1924.

Both the railroad and the equipment stocks, leaders in the upward movement in prices in the last few weeks, were conspicuously absent from the active trading lists today.

May Continue Flight Thursday

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, Aug. 19.—Lieutenant Locatello, Italian long distance aviator, cabled from Reykjavik, Iceland, that his airplane was in splendid condition and that he was fully prepared to accompany the American "round-the-world" flyers when they set out for Greenland.

One of the American machines broke a spreader bar and the other its propeller when they attempted to rise from the waters of Reykjavik Harbor. The unusually heavy load of petroleum on board was blamed for the accident.

Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Nelson expect the cruiser Richmond to arrive with spare parts Wednesday so that the flight can be resumed Thursday if weather conditions permit.

Veteran Claims Noted Lineage

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Aug. 19.—"I will be a hundred years old in a few months and I don't want to die an unknown man. My name is not Matt Green. I am Robert R. Livingstone and my father was the man who arranged the Louisiana treaty."

This was the statement made to the mayor's committee that visited the aged civil war veteran at the hospital where he was taken following a mishap during the recent national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Green, or Livingstone, said he had kept his identity a secret 76 years, from the time he was killed by a boyhood sweetheart. In 1848 he enlisted in the army as Matt Green, fought throughout the civil war and was awarded several medals. His military service also included 17 years in the navy. According to the aged soldier's story, the prominence of his family led him to adopt a name of his own.

Influenza Old Complaint

Influenza has been known almost as long as man has been known. The word itself is derived from the ancient astrologers, who believed it to be caused by the "influence" of the stars. The disease has been unmistakably traced back to 1880. It was then prevalent in eastern Germany, and was known, curiously enough, as sleeping sickness. It appeared again in the Eighteenth century, when epidemics of it were frequent and prolonged in most European countries. Among the famous people of long ago who suffered from it were Sir Isaac Newton, Goethe and Schiller. The great philosopher Kant was attacked by it, and he believed it was caused by noxious insects brought to western Europe as a result of trade with Russia.

Firpo Wins First Bout With Reform

Gains Stay Until After His Fight With Willis in Battle With Reformer Who Seeks to Have Him Deported.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 19.—Luis Firpo, "Wild Bull of the Pampas," won the decision in his first battle in a court room today.

The South American heavyweight pugilist, through his lawyer, Hyman Bushel, obtained a postponement of the hearing of perjury charges against Firpo until September 20, which is nine days after the date on which Firpo is scheduled to battle Harry Willis, negro heavyweight, at Boyle's Thirty Acres in New Jersey.

Firpo, dressed in gray from head to feet, appeared in the court room of United States Commissioner Hitchcock to answer to an affidavit filed by the Rev. William Sheafe Chase of New York, charging Firpo with perjury in connection with his recent entry into the United States and asking a warrant for Firpo's arrest.

Commissioner Hitchcock's decision followed a lengthy argument, which at times waxed hot, between Attorney Bushel and Dr. Chase. The commissioner first set the hearing for tomorrow, but Bushel objected asking that the hearing be set for September 20 on the ground that Firpo's rights would be infringed by setting the date so early.

"Firpo is the victim of a frame-up," Bushel declared to Commissioner Hitchcock. "It even looks like this may be attempted blackmail."

"Cannon Chase made this affidavit without having seen the record in the deportation hearing at Ellis Island. If he has committed perjury, I, as a citizen, will demand his arrest."

The Rev. Chase had charged that Firpo had perjured himself by "declaring to the immigration authorities that he had only a casual acquaintance" with Miss Lourdes, who came from South America on the same ship as did Firpo. He also said he did not propose to countenance a double standard of morals in connection with the immigration law, inasmuch as Miss Lourdes had been kept out of the United States and Firpo had been let in.

"How does Chase know what Firpo said at the immigration hearing?" said Bushel.

Cannon Chase spoke up: "I received this information in a letter from the assistant secretary of labor in reply to a query I had sent to him."

The commissioner said he believed it would be advisable to give Firpo a chance to line up his defense and, therefore, he would set the date for September 20.

Firpo sat stolidly throughout the proceedings. Apparently he did not know what was transpiring in the court room. When the court announced his decision, Firpo's friends started to cheer and the first smile broke on Firpo's face.

Firpo apprised that the Rev. William Sheafe Chase, president of the New York Civic League, had obtained a warrant for his arrest, charging perjury in gaining admittance to the United States, on July 21, packed up suddenly late last night and took the first train for New York to answer the charges at the earliest possible moment.

A woman, a dark eyed, buxom girl of Spanish origin, is the cause of Firpo's trouble on the even of his "million dollar fight" with Harry Willis, the negro heavyweight challenger of Jack Dempsey. She is Miss Bianca Lourdes, the woman who was deported following her arrival in this country on the same ship with the Firpo party.

The Rev. Dr. Chase wants to know: "Why was Firpo allowed to enter while Miss Lourdes was kept out? Should there be," he asks, "a double standard in connection with our immigration law that deports the woman and lets the man in?"

"Also, is the law of this country to be respected?"

Cannon Chase said the charge of perjury he has preferred against Firpo, was based on the fighter's misstatements to the immigration authorities that Miss Lourdes was "only a casual acquaintance." He declared he would prove this to be untrue and that, in fact, Firpo and the girl were friends of long standing and that she was in America a year ago—when Firpo fought Dempsey.

Firpo's lawyer, Bushel, characterized the action of the Rev. Mr. Chase as a "publicity stunt."

Commissioner of Immigration Curran took the effort of Cannon Chase rather lightly, too, asserting the pastor "has his name in the newspapers again."

"How does he know Firpo committed perjury on Ellis Island?" asked Curran. "How does he know what Firpo said at Ellis Island, if he knows anything the immigration authorities are not in possession of about the woman, why doesn't he come forward with it?"

To which Dr. Chase calmly replied: "Just wait—we'll prove we have an iron clad case against Firpo. There is going to be no double standard in our immigration laws if we can help it."

If Firpo loses his fight against deportation, he will lose, it is estimated, at least $200,000, his approximate share of the Willis fight which is expected to attract more than $1,000,000 in gate receipts.

Firpo, a defiant expression on his stern countenance, rang the door bell of his lawyer's home, shortly after nine o'clock this morning. He was accompanied by his South American friend, Juan Holmes.

Asked concerning the Rev. Mr. Chase's charge, Firpo glowered, rubbed his hand through his tousled hair, and crossed his arms and talked rapidly in Spanish. As interpreted by Holmes, Firpo said:

"I am absolutely innocent. I did not commit perjury. I told the immigration authorities all I knew. I am getting a raw deal."

COLLEGE BOYS WORKING HERE FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Of the many thousands of college boys, who work during vacation on special scholarship campaigns, five are at present operating in this city. These young men are working on a scholarship campaign conducted by the Pictorial Review Company. They are cooperating with the Rose-Gorman-Rose store, where a full line of Pictorial Review patterns may be had.

It is the work of these young men to secure 550 names and addresses for the mailing list of the periodical, in return for which they will secure a scholarship, paying their tuition and most of their expenses at college the coming year. They are bona fide college students, carrying credentials bearing their photographs. The names of the solicitors are: Captain of the team, George E. Couoe, Jr., Lowell Tech.; H. H. Shapiro, Harvard; W. G. Bowering, Bangor; H. Rosenwald, Harvard and J. A. Winthrop of Harvard.

Visited Police Camp.

Officer Ira Britt and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wolf and Mrs. Margaret Rightmyer motored to Plattkill Camp on Sunday to the Recreation Camp of the New York police force. Sunday the boys were working hard to get everything in readiness for 600 officers who arrive at the camp on Monday. It is a very fine spot for the camp and the boys expect to enjoy themselves while there.

Can You Really Blame Them?

One of the strange things of life is that hundreds of men can be induced to yell and parade and cheer and fight for an hour at a stretch when they would refuse to saw wood for five minutes.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Lake Far Below Sea

The deepest hollow known in the lands of the world is the one in Patagonia at the bottom of which lies the Dead sea. The hollow containing this salt lake is actually 1,300 feet below the level of the sea.

French Scenes
At the MaverickNoted Theatrical Producers Will Direct French Divertissement by Children of Woodstock, August 26 and 28.An unusual event is to take place at the Maverick Theatre, Woodstock, on the afternoons of Tuesday and Thursday, August 26 and 28, at 4:30 o'clock, when Miss King and Miss Coit, the producers of "Ancassin and Nicolette," the beautiful children's play which caused such a stir in New York and Boston, are to put on a French divertissement or Chaousours with Woodstock children at the Maverick Theatre.A play produced by Miss King and Miss Coit is considered a real event in the theatrical, artistic and educational world and without doubt a large part of the audience will be made up of people who have traveled a great many miles to be present at this very rare and beautiful performances.At several of the schools of art in Boston and New York, it was required as part of their training that the students should attend all of Miss King's and Miss Coit's productions. At a number of lectures given before the 47 workshop of Harvard University Miss King's work was cited as one example of the most perfect scenery and costumes that had yet been produced on the American stage.Miss King and Miss Coit produced under the auspices of the Theatre Guild of New York "Nala and Dami-anti," a Hindu drama with scenery and costumes from the Rajput paintings of the 17th century and "Ancassin and Nicolette," the French romance, with its beautiful scenery and costumes from the French illuminated manuscripts of the 15th century. Yvette Guilbert wished to buy this set or a replica of it to take abroad two years ago when with her school she made a tour on the continent.The price of the set which was about $6,- 000, seemed to her a rather large sum of money to pay. However, when it was explained to her that the illuminated back-drop had a diaper design of gold leaf laid on it, and required the time of forty students three or four months to complete it, the price seemed more moderate.
The French divertissement to be shown at the Maverick Theatre was last given by Miss King and Miss Coit five years ago at the Punch and Judy Theatre, where it scored a tremendous success.Miss Coit is coaching the children.
The scenery and costumes are by Miss King from the Boutel de Mon-vel illustrations in the "Chanson de France."OUR DAILY PATTERN.*A Good Style for Mature Figures.4774. Linen, gingham, percale, jersey and crepe weaves are good for this model. The "vestee" is an attractive feature. It breaks the straight lines of the front, and is very becoming to stout figures. The sleeve may be in short "cap" length or finished with a cuff in elbow length.The pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 1/4 yards of 27 inch material.
The width at the foot is 1 1/4 yards.
A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern
Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.Fashion Book Notice.Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date fall and winter 1924-1925 Book of Fashions, showing color plates, and containing 600 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.FIRST VISIT HERE*IN FORTY-TWO YEARSWilliam Henry Smith of Toledo-Maumee, Ohio, is visiting at the home of his great nephew, James Pruden on O'Reilly street. Mr.
Smith was born in this city 42 years ago and is the son of the late Abram
C. Smith, who with his brother owned practically all of Pine Grove avenue, giving the land for Willyck Cemetery, and also owned Greenhill avenue, all of the part of the city known as Wilbur and the Irish block. Mr. Smith is a member of Forsyth Post, No. 15, G. A. R., of Toledo, Ohio, and holds several offices in the lodge. He attended the National encampment in Boston last week, stopping in Kingston on his return home. This is his first visit in this city in forty-two years. He is an uncle of Mrs. E. Van Nostrand of Hastbrouck avenue this city.THE

The Girl of the Spanish Type Should Not Wear Bobbed Hair

By MADAM E LOUISE.

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.Rosita did not know that she could live up to her name in regard to her culture. No one ever told her that she resembled the Spanish type.
Her blonde friend, Emily, had her hair bobbed and curled, which of course, was very becoming to her. Rosita yielded to the persuading of her friend and let her brown tresses fall under the shears of the operator and came out all fluffed and curled, just exactly the way she should not be. In fact, she just looked like every one else. Rosita's type with her olive complexion, big brown eyes and beautiful glossy hair, along with her oval face, demands simplicity and a close to the head line cut. Everything Spanish is very popular at present, and the girl Rosita's type, who wears the hairdress shown here, should by all means try it.
